

Neuropsychologist

Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

Northwestern University, Feinberg School of Medicine

The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine seeks a full-time Neuropsychologist at the rank of Instructor or Assistant Professor on the Non-Tenure track. This position is critical to the collaborations between psychiatry and other specialties (e.g., Neurology, Neurosurgery, General Internal Medicine, Oncology, Sleep Medicine, Addictions, Transplant) in the clinical diagnosis and treatment of patients with cognitive impairment due to medical and/or psychiatric disorders. Responsibilities include conducting comprehensive outpatient evaluations in the Neuropsychology Service of the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, conducting bedside neuropsychological assessments for the inpatient consult service of Northwestern Memorial Hospital, and providing supervision to trainees in clinical neuropsychology (pre-doctoral students, interns, and post-doctoral fellows). Opportunities to provide instruction within the doctoral program in clinical psychology within the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences may also be available.

Qualified candidates will have their PhD in clinical psychology/clinical neuropsychology, completed an APA approved clinical internship with a neuropsychology emphasis, have at least two years of supervised postdoctoral training in clinical neuropsychology, and will be licensed or licensed eligible in the State of Illinois. Salary is commensurate with experience.

In order to ensure full consideration, application must be received by May 1, 2017.
